

Vanguard

Fight the fight Holding on has always been your right Bleed the way
Who looks down to ever save the day

Blaze a trail
And hope will fall on them in streams of hail Let them taste the sin
of those who've failed

Send away all of those who say that you should wait Doubt the sane For they will dig your grave

You are safe
But safety is another linkless chain
Fight the fight
Holding on has always been your right

Blaze a trail
And hope will fall on
them in streams of hail
Let them taste the sin
of those who've failed

Antiquation

Lack of desperation I've become The clouds arrived so suddenly I'm not indebted to you but I am indebted by you Lack of desperation I've
become

Oh you lack the trust
To move on with us, it's so obvious
All your lives are encased in rust You aren't us, but our words will heal you whole

Where is the one?
When will you know when you've found the one?
And where is the rock I can cling to
When this river drowns

Trial and tribulation
I've been numb
Our parade marches so sullenly To the cheers of antiquation, the lies of preservation Lack of desperation makes us one

Oh you lack the trust
To move on with us
It's so obvious

You are Lazarus I'm not the lord but my words will heal you
whole

Where is the one?
When will you know when
you've found the one?
can cling to

Hoorah say hoorah
And you'll fend off this freezing tide
Hoorah say hoorah
Regression is to have and not to hold Hoorah say hoorah

Lifedial

I've embraced timelessness Forever brings a longtime for a while Life is just a cloud I'm on
The more it floats the less I'm wrong

But will I fall to the earth?
And when the ground is tired of me?

My life has gone away
and yet I chose to stay My time has gone astray
and yet I chose to stay

I'll endure loneliness
And the days retain their facelessness Life is just a clock were on The more it ticks the more were gone

But will I fall to the earth?
tired of me?

My life has gone away

Tempest

I hear the roar, and I hit the floor
The tempest outside Asks that we die

I hear the roar and I grip the door
I'm in for the fight of my meaningless life

If we were going I should tell you, I've been lost
My compass reads
confusion, I am lost

Screams dance on the winds
My faith is mistrust I'll miss you so much

If we were going I should
My compass reads
confusion, I am lost

You can see the madness swirl behind these eyes It's the hope that keeps us all alive

If we were going I should
My compass reads
confusion, I am lost

In this Avalon, when is Avalon?
In this Avalon, when is Avalon?
Will we toil and die
under stormy skies?
In this Avalon, when is Avalon?

I can hold on to this Upon a faithless time
But you see right through me and I see right through you
